The Lamp Oil a Myth.

Correcting common errors concerning the Esquimaux, Mr. John Murdoch points out that there is no evidence that the women have a piurality of husbands; that the people do not live in underground dens, keeping up their internal heat by enormous meals of raw blubber washed down with draughts of lamp oil; that they do not torpidly doze through their ong night; and that they are not at all dwarfish in stature. The winter houses of snow are usually built upon the surface, the food is chiefly cooked, oil is used much the same as among civilized people. and the activity of the villages is not les-sened by winter, whose darkness has been exaggerated. - Arkansaw Traveler.

When one has been suffering the agonies of a severe attack of theumatism, neuralif a new lease of life had been cranted who, after trying physicians and number-less remedies, have used Adriophores and found to their great joy that this medicine really did cure these diseases.

O. P. Shaffer, formerly managing editor of the News-Register, Youngstown, O. said in a recent interview with him: "1 have suffered from rheumatism for about thirteen years. At different intervals, I have been unable to attend to my busines or weeks at a time. The most of my or weeks at a time. The most of my trouble was in my hands and arms. The pain was usually accompanied with considerable swelling of my hands. During these years! I have used many kinds of remedies with only temporary relief. Being in the newspaper business I had come in contact with various medicines that were advertised in our columns, but really never had much faith in patent medicines. A tittle over three years ago my attention was called to Athlophoros. I noticed from time to time the strong endorsement of parties that had used the remedy and was sent to us for publication in our paper. Through this means I concluded to try the medicine for my own case. I was relieved and cured in a remarkably short time." "Have you been troubled with rheuma-tism since," was asked. "I was entirely rid of it for two years and then had another slight attack, but a few doses of Athlophoros soon drove it away; since that time, about a year ago, I have been entirely free from rheumatism. This was all done with less than a bottle of medicine. I always recommend it for rheumatism. *Every druggist should keep Athlophoros and Athlophoros Pills, but where they can-not be bought of the druggist the Athlophoros Co., 112 Wall St., New York, will send either (carriage paid) on receipt of regular price, which is $1.00 per bottle for Athlophoros and 50c. for Pills. When the popular taste began some time ago to lean toward articles made of brass many persons laughed at what they called a susarn and said it could not last a country of the en and said it could not last long, but if the trade done in this line of goods is anything to go by the craze is increasing. Popular taste, in fact, is run-ning riot in this regard. Fancy woodwork, so popular a year or so ago, is prac-tically out of the market. Not only is brie a brac and ornamental pieces, but in many of the recently built dwellings it sale by Charles Ludiow & Co. constitutes much of the practical and substantial appointments. For portieres, mantel facings and stair casings polished brass has been in common use for a long time, but it was not until recently that it took the place of softer and less expensive and the like. Its use in the manufacture of household articles has knocked a good sized hole in the furniture business, for a portion of a dwelling can to-day be furnished in brass, from the kitchen poker

For it naturally follows that in the normal skull there is a correspondence be-

Her mode of life, her dress are not essentially different except in so far as they must be different on account of her sex. But with civilized nations there is a variety in modes of thought, in likes and dislikes and in other mental characteris ties; in occupation, in manner, in clothes, even in food, so that the differentiation between the sexes is far more distinctly marked than it is with nations low in the scale of progress. Who can doubt that this is the direct result of differences not only in the brain, but in other parts of the nervous system*—Dr. William A. Hammond in Popular Science Monthly.

The aching head, constipated bowels, causing languor and fatigue, vanish as soon as this remedy is used. The Shaker Tar Capsule cure coughs.

A. H. Toon, of Fancy Farm, Ky., writes May 21, 1884, as follows: "I wish to in-form you that your medicine has done more good than any I have ever used, and I do afflicted with dyspepsia, rheumatism and general debility."
J. E. Wells, druggist, Roscoe, St. Clair unty. Mo., remits and reorders and says. The Shaker Extract of Roots is the best nedicine on my shelves. Those that have sed the medicine or pills, speak of then the highest terms. Send me another

We Caution All Against Them. The unprecedented success and merit of Eiy's Cream Balm—a real cure for catarrh, ay fever and cold in the head—has induc many adventurers to place catarrh medi-cines bearing some resemblance in appearance, style or name upon the market, in order to trade upon the reputatian of Ely's Cream Balm. Don't be deceived. Buy only Ely's Cream Balm. Many in your imnediate locality will testify in hig mendation of it. A particle is applied into ach nostril; no pain; agreeable to use.

He tells a queer story of the way be lost his hair. After the show closed for the summer on Staten Island he went west again to look up Indians. While there he and a companion got caught in a prairie fire. They were unable to escape, as the flames encircled them. "Seeing this," said Keen, "we ran into a pool of water about four feet in depth and twenty yards or so across. The long, dry grass surrounded it on every side. Just as the flames got to the edge of the water we ducked under. I held my breath as long as I could, and then, thinking it would all be past, brought my head above water for breath. Just as I did so the flames swept across the pond, fanned by the strong wind that was blowing, and in an instant I had lost nearly every hair on my head. I ducked under again in a hurry, but not fin time to save much. I didn't look out again till I was nearly blue in the face, and then it was all over. My skin was not scorched much, but the hair went like tinder. It hasn't grown on much since, as you see."—New York Commercial Advertiser.
